

REPUBLICAN PARTY SWEEPS COUNTRY

Hughes, Stuart and Davidson Defeat Their Opponents With Crushing Majorities.

ILLINOIS HAS A VERY BIG G. O. P. VOTE

Kansas, Iowa, Missouri and Minnesota May Have Democratic Governors--Vote Close in Iowa, Both Sides Claiming Victory--Both Branches of Congress Are Republican.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, Nov. 7.—According to the Associated Press dispatches the republicans elected 219 congressmen; the democrats, 164; with three districts missing.
Hughes is Safe.
New York, Nov. 7.—At 7:30 this morning returns the complete in greater New York for governorship. They showed Hearst's plurality as 76,956, the returns from state are too incomplete to give the accurate forecast but indications are the democrats have elected full state ticket except governor.
Sends Message.
Washington, Nov. 7.—President

LIEUT. GOV. W. D. CONNOR
Ran But Few Thousand Behind Head of Ticket.

Roosevelt today sent a message of hearty congratulation to Gov. elect Hughes, of New York.
Massachusetts.
Boston, Nov. 7.—Complete returns place the plurality of Guild, republican, for governor at 31,662. The political congressional delegation remains unchanged. The democrats made a gain of three in the state legislature.
Stuart Won.
Philadelphia, Nov. 7.—Stuart, republican for governor, defeated Eberly, the fusion candidate by about seventy five thousand, the balance of the republican state ticket was elected by a slight plurality.
A Hundred Thousand.
Chicago, Nov. 7.—Illinois went republican by over a hundred thousand, the vote for Smulski, for state treasurer, with some districts is missing, footings about a hundred and twenty thousand. Chicago gave the state ticket a plurality of over fifty thousand. The republicans lost four congressmen. The democrats now having five instead of one. The legislature republican by good majority, insuring the re-election of Senator Cullom.
Ohio Republicans.
Columbus, Nov. 7.—Chairman, Dick of the republican state committee, claims the election of all the republican candidates on the state ticket by seventy five thousand.
Colorado Republicans.
Denver, Nov. 7.—Returns are incomplete, but sufficient to show the election of the entire republican state, congressional and judicial tickets.
Colorado Democrats Concede.
Denver, Colo., Nov. 7.—The "News," democratic, concedes the election of all candidates on the republican ticket with the possible exception of chief justice.
Lincoln Returns.
Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 7.—The return received indicate the election of Sheldon, republican, governor, by about 15,000 plurality. Chairman Rose claims 87 republican members of legislature, 67 being the majority.

Delaware All Republican.
Wilmington, Del., Nov. 7.—The republicans elected all state, congressional and county tickets in Delaware.
Indiana Solid.
Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 7.—The latest returns from Indiana indicate a majority of 20,000 to 25,000 for the entire republican state ticket.
More Indiana.
Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 7.—More complete returns received today show the democrats have elected five out-of thirteen congressmen, which is a gain of three.

Vote is Close.
Concord, N. H., Nov. 7.—Flynn, republican, led Jameson, democrat, for governor by an estimated plurality of 2,200. A majority vote is required, and the election will probably be thrown to the legislature for decision which is believed to be republican.
In Iowa.
Des Moines, Nov. 7.—325 precincts out of 2,157 give for governor Cummings 39,490; and Porter (democrat), 33,408. The same precincts two years ago gave Cummings 43,432, and Sullivan 25,612. In congress, the ninth district, Walter F. Smith, republican, eleventh, E. R. Hubbard, republican are elected.
Iowa Safe.
Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 7.—Reports from about half the counties in the state received at the political headquarters indicate the republicans carried the state for the entire ticket. Chairman Woods says Cummings will have more than 25,000 plurality. At the democratic headquarters the claim is made the reports will show Porter will have a plurality not less than five thousand.
What In Kansas?
Topeka, Nov. 7.—Harris, democrat, is apparently elected for governor in Kansas over Hoehn, by ten thousand.
Minnesota Democratic.
St. Paul, Nov. 7.—Governor John A. Johnson, (democrat), re-elected governor of Minnesota, by at least forty thousand plurality. James T. McCreary present representative from the second congressional district, and chairman of the ways and means committee of the house, has been defeated by his democratic opponent, Winfield S. Hammond, the legislature republican.
Steady Gain.
St. Louis, Nov. 7.—The election in Missouri resulted in heavy democratic gains over the vote of 1904. The legis-

UNKNOWN ASSAULTED WOMAN IN PASTURE

Spring Green, Wis., Nov. 7.—Mrs. Ed Frank was terribly assaulted in a pasture last night by an unknown man. She dragged herself to a neighboring farmhouse and there lies in a very critical condition. She may recover. The people of the community are aroused and should the guilt be placed on mob violence is feared.

UNKNOWN YOUTH WAS CLUB FEDERATION GIVEN A LARGE SUM OF MASSACHUSETTS

Paying Teller Mistook Him for Man Who Had Presented Check.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 7.—An unknown youth stole twelve hundred dollars from the National Exchange bank here yesterday and has disappeared. The clerk of a big firm presented a check for that sum and stepped from the window temporarily. The teller counted out the money and handed it to a youth standing at the window, who left quickly. Then the clerk reappeared and the mistake was discovered. There is no clue. Attempts were made to keep the affair a secret.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Peabody, Mass., Nov. 7.—The local club women had the proud honor of entertaining the Massachusetts State Federation in annual meeting today. The forenoon session, held in the South Congregational Church, was devoted to reports of the St. Paul biennial. The feature of the afternoon session was an address by Enos A. Mills, of Colorado, on "Our Friends, the Trees." Both sessions were largely attended.
Club Women at Macon.
Macon, Ga., Nov. 7.—The chapel of Wesleyan College presented a bright and animated appearance when, at 10:30 o'clock this morning, the tenth annual convention of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs was called to order by Mrs. M. A. Lipscomb, of Athens. Many of the chief cities and towns of the state were represented among the delegates, while the attendance increased in the presence of many of Macon's prominent women. After an invocation by Rev. John Northrup the visitors listened to cordial greetings from Mayor Smith, President Quarry of Wesleyan College, Mrs. Alexander Prouditt, representing the local women's clubs, and Miss Ida Holt. Mrs. Rhodes Brown made felicitous responses for the visiting delegates. The remainder of the day was taken up largely with the reports of officers and standing committees, interspersed with several addresses. The convention will conclude its business tomorrow.

CASSIE CHADWICK AGAIN PROMINENT

Endorser of $10,000 Note Endeavoring to Escape Payment, Alleging False Pretenses.
Boston, Mass., Nov. 7.—A case involving the sensational financial dealings of Mrs. Cassie Chadwick will be tried at the term of the United States circuit court, which convened today. The case is a suit brought by George C. Rankin, receiver of the Oberlin, O., national bank, which failed through its extensive dealings with Mrs. Chadwick, against Herbert H. Newton of Brookline to recover on a $10,000 note given to the bank by Mrs. Chadwick and endorsed by Newton. The defense maintains that the endorsement on the note was obtained through false representations, among these being the claim of Mrs. Chadwick that she held a note of $500,000 of Andrew Carnegie, and that the steel magnate held in trust for her an estate valued at $5,000,000. It is understood that a deposition by Andrew Carnegie denying Mrs. Chadwick's claims will be introduced as evidence.

COLORED MAN WINS WITH MAJORITY IN MILWAUKEE

First Colored Man To Go To The Assembly--- Babcock Defeated In The Third District By Small Margin.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 7.—The only three close contests in the state were settled by the complete returns this morning. McGovern, independent candidate for district attorney, defeats the socialist candidate by 181, the democratic and republican nominees being far behind. Congressman Babcock is defeated for re-election in the third congressional district and Murphy and Weiss will be the two democratic out of the eleven members of congress from this state. Babcock was defeated by about 185. Levis for congress in the second district was defeated by Nelson, republican, by about 900. Davidson for governor has a plurality of sixty-two thousand thus far, with Connor for lieutenant governor eight thousand behind. The state assembly and senate are overwhelmingly republican. The socialists gained two members.
An Early Report.
Milwaukee, Nov. 7.—A gain of one congressman by the democrats is the only change in the political situation in Wisconsin over two years ago. This change is the defeat of Congressman Babcock in the third district by James W. Murphy, democrat, by a plurality of several hundred votes. The state returns are far from being complete, but indicate election of Gov. Davidson, republican, by a plurality of 60,000. One of the surprises in the Wisconsin election was the victory of Lucian H. Palmer, colored, over Thomas Ramsey, an assemblyman in the richest district in Milwaukee city. Palmer is the first colored man to go to the state legislature and so far as known is the first of his race to get any public office in Wisconsin. He is a cat- ever and made a hard personal canvass.
Next Legislature.
The assembly will consist of eighty-six republicans, nine democrats and five social democrats. At the last session there were eighty-five republicans, eleven democrats and four social democrats. Babcock admits his defeat by 800.

CONVICTED SLAYER MURDERS BETRAYER

Exile Escaped and Returned to Scene of Capture—Betrayed Second Time by Cast-off Woman.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Rome, Nov. 7.—The Ajaccio courts are dealing with a remarkable case, the central figure of which is a Corsican named Paoli. Years ago this man had been deported to New Caledonia for murder, but in some as yet unexplained manner he managed to escape and returned home, profiting by the circumstance that the prefect of Corsica had not been notified of his disappearance. Hiding himself in the mountains, he took the first opportunity to kill the man who had betrayed him to the police. But as Paoli was supposed to be still a convict in New Caledonia, his two brothers were arrested on suspicion of having committed the murder; they alone being regarded as having cause for a vendetta. Paoli then sent a messenger to the prefect to explain that his brothers were innocent, but that functionary dismissed the story as a fairy tale. Shortly afterwards, when the prefect was on a tour of inspection, his carriage was held up by a little band of armed men, one of whom presented his photograph to the astounded official. It was Paoli, who now personally urged the release of his innocent relatives. The latter were in due course liberated, but the authorities now left no stone unturned to recapture Paoli himself, in which they were recently successful through the agency of a woman, a former sweetheart of Paoli, who, on being abandoned by him, revenged herself by delivering him into the hands of his enemies.

ALTOONA BENCH SHOW

Altoona, Pa., Nov. 7.—A bench show under the auspices of the Altoona Kennel club opened in this city today. Nearly two hundred dogs of all classes are on exhibition, including some of the most valuable canines in the country. New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Buffalo and a number of other cities are represented. Judging of the exhibits began today and will continue until the close of the show next Saturday night.

IOWA DAIRYMEN IN SESSION

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Nov. 7.—The thirtieth annual convention of the Iowa State Dairy Association is at hand. It begins tonight and will continue until Saturday. Delegates are here from all parts of Iowa and from neighboring states as well, and the meeting promises to be the largest and most successful since the meeting of the national association here some years ago.

GOV. DAVIDSON HAD PLURALITY OF 2,586 VOTES IN ROCK CO.

W. D. CONNOR RAN 166 BEHIND
THE HEAD OF HIS TICKET.

J. L. FISHER WON HANDILY

In Race for District Attorneyship, and Congressman Cooper Rolled up a
Big Lead Over Cunningham—
Sheriff-Elect Fisher Made
Good Race.

When the ballots were counted
Tuesday evening it was found that
Gov. James Davidson, as anticipated, had swept the county—rolling up 3,917 votes to Aylward's 1,331, giving him a plurality of 2,586. The prohibition-ists' candidate, Bacon, received 240 votes; the social democratic candidate, Gaylord, 147; and the social labor party standard-bearer, Rosas, 12.
Beloit with admirable impartiality gave the social democratic leader

JOHN L. FISHER.

93 votes and the prohibitionist aspirant for the governorship, 92.

Connor Behind Ticket
W. D. Connor, republican candidate for lieutenant governor, ran 166 behind his ticket. He received 3,741 votes to Blenski's 1,351. Congressman Cooper received 3,517 votes to 1,382 for J. J. Cunningham, giving him a majority of 2,435 in Rock county.
John L. Fisher, candidate for district attorney, had 1,856 plurality over his nearest competitor. The totals stood:
Fisher—3,515; Hendricks—1,650;
Blanchard—115.

All Republican Assemblymen
In the three races for legislative honors the republicans were victorious. In the first district Baker of Evanston received 1,815 votes to Sherman's 530; majority, 757. In the second district Phly Norcross received 1,070 to 45 for Horn, social democrat. In the third Shinn Smith gathered in 599 majority, the vote standing: Smith, 1,266; Lathers, 607.

F. E. Fisher of Evansville received a handsome endorsement for sheriff,
3,307 votes to 1,237 for Jones, democrat. His majority of 2,060 compares favorably with the majorities of the other candidates for county offices who had no serious opposition.

..Forty Years Ago..

Janesville Daily Gazette, Wednesday, November 7, 1866.—Good for See Young Men.—The success of Captain Norcross yesterday was largely due to the energy and faithfulness with which the young men in the different wards took hold of the work.

At a meeting of young men held at the store of Gage Burgess for the purpose of organizing a gymnasium club, John R. Hutson was chosen chairman and E. F. Welch secretary. On motion it was agreed in order to raise the necessary for the purpose, to organize a stock company with a capital of two hundred and fifty dollars divided into fifty shares of five dollars each, with a right to increase if necessary.

Messrs. Hutson, Welch, Palmer, Jr., Higgins and Ringer were appointed a committee to solicit subscriptions for the stock, and Messrs. Randall, Nash and Bowen a committee to secure a adjourned room.

On motion, adjourned to meet on Thursday evening of this week.

John R. Hutson, Ch'n.

E. F. Welch Sec'y.

November 5, 1866.

Victory

So far as heard from the elections yesterday resulted as favorably as the most sanguine believers in Republican principles could reasonably expect.

Suburban News In Brief

UTTERS CORNERS.

Utters Corners, Nov. 5.—The entertainment at our church Friday night was one of the best ever shown here. Mrs. Ada Starr of Milwaukee was her best and her selections were fine. The instrumental music was grand, and the vocal music by Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Huke of Richmond, could hardly have been surpassed. The L. A. S. have the satisfaction of knowing that they gave the people good returns for their money.

There was a surprise party at the Spring Brook Creamery, Wednesday night, arranged by Miss Nora D. Randick, in honor of Mrs. A. P. Grow's birthday. A large company of Mrs. Grow's friends were present and one of the pleasantest events of the season was participated in. There was also a very pleasant gathering of young people at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Teetschorn the same night.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Roe and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hull spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Hull and family near Delavan.

The Koshovek brothers have cribbed 5000 bushels of gilt edged corn, and have had to suspend husking until they can build more corn cribs.

Our young people indulged in the usual fun and frolic during Halloween week, but not a single misdemeanor has been reported.

Rev. Mr. Cairn and Henry Taylor, of Whitewater, called on Richard Peacock one day last week. Mr. Peacock went to Whitewater Sunday to hear the Rev. Gentleman preach and get better acquainted with him.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Wright of Delavan did not take possession of the farm which they bought of Wm. Dixon on Nov. first, owing to the serious illness of Mrs. Wright, but will do so as soon as she recovers.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. and C. H. Gage entertained a number of relatives from Oklahoma last week. Mrs. Laura Richards a sister of Mrs. R. H. Gage was also with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Le-will went to De Kalb, Ill. last week to attend the funeral of Mrs. Lynch, a friend who visited at their home only a few weeks ago.

Fred Hadley and family enjoyed a visit from his cousin Mrs. Nora McGowan of Whitewater last week.

Fred Haight of Galesburg, Ill., visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hull the first of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wright visited her brother Mr. Brooks, near Milton, two days last week.

SIX CORNERS.

Six Corners, Nov. 5.—The new school building at Six Corners will be dedicated Nov. 15, with appropriate exercises. Pres. Deland of Milton will be the speaker.

James Waters of Milton has rented the farm belonging to Glen Osborn for the coming year and is proceeding at once to move there.

Dr. Brown of Janesville, was called to see a sick horse belonging to James Manogue last Tuesday.

Little Lela Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Gray, is slowly recovering from the scarlet fever. Dr. Binnewells of Milton is attending her.

Miss Alice Haight of Utters Corners, and Alfred Haight of Galesburg, Ill., were callers at E. A. Carter's last Wednesday.

Several from here attended the G. A. R. campfire at Milton, last Wednesday evening.

Mr. Thomas has just erected a new windmill on his place.

overtly enjoyed themselves Halloween night.

All of the local teachers attended the teachers' meeting in Janesville Friday and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edson Brown of East Cent. entertained Evansville friends Sunday.

Owing to the absence of Elder Larimore there was no preaching here Sunday afternoon.

Jas. Norton of Canada, formerly of this place and whose wife is buried here, had a monument erected by Brasee of Janesville on Monday and called on friends also.

Two corn-shredders are busily at work in this vicinity.

Confirmation services here Sunday at the Lutheran church were very largely attended.

The entertainment at the hall Saturday evening given by Miss Zoe Cory assisted by others, was quite well attended and enjoyed by all present.

All tender thanks to Miss Cory and also Crandall Bros. and John Cory for their assistance in helping the building fund.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fuller and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brown attended the Masonic banquet at Footville Saturday evening. A fine supper served by Mrs. Frank Wells and a pleasant time was the verdict of those in attendance.

Harry Howe of Orfordville was on our street Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sornow celebrated their silver wedding anniversary last Sunday.

Mrs. Cora Poynter has been entertaining the corn shredders the past two days.

Frank Pepper makes flying trips through here frequently in his auto.

NORTH HARMONY

Harmony, Nov. 6.—Mrs. Frank Summerbell visited her daughter, Mrs. Maxon, at Walworth last week.

Mrs. Flora Rice visited relatives at Delavan Saturday.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Lester Godfrey, a daughter, on Nov. 1st.

The W. C. T. U. social at Mr. and Mrs. Glen Osborn's was a success socially and financially.

President Deland of Milton college will deliver an address at the dedication of the new school building at Six Corners on Nov. 15th. The exercises will begin at 2 p. m. A cordial invitation is extended to all who are interested in educational work to be present at these exercises.

P. B. Wilcox, the auctioneer, has an auction near Milton on the 5th and A. R. Rice's, north of Janesville, the 12th.

Mrs. P. Anderson and daughter Helen of Janesville visited her sister, Mrs. F. Wendorf, Sunday.

Amusing to the Sultan.

A good story reached me the other day. The sultan of Turkey was regaling to Sir Nicholas O'Connor, our ambassador at Constantinople, that in the new British cabinet should be Mr. Bryce, whose anti-Turkish and pro-Macedonian sentiments are well known.

"Your majesty need not worry about Mr. Bryce," said Sir Nicholas O'Connor, "for in Ireland he has a Macedonia of his own to keep him busy."

The sultan was vastly amused.—London World.

DISMISSES "COLORED" TROOPS

Failure to Disclose Identity of Murderer Leads to Presidential Action.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Unprecedented in the history of the army of the United States is the action of the president, just announced in dismissing in disgrace from the army an entire battalion of colored troops because of their failure to disclose the identity of some of their number who had been guilty of violence and murder.

As an evidence, however, of his intention to be fair to the colored troops, the president has accompanied this action by an order which may amount to the court-martial of a white army officer of high grade who was charged with having cast slurs upon the colored troops.

CLEAR UP A MURDER MYSTERY

Baker Confesses to Killing Woman in New York City.

New York, Nov. 7.—Unable to eat or sleep under the pricking of his conscience, he declared, John Washburn, 23 years old, an Austrian baker, Tuesday confessed to coroner Julius Harburger, according to a statement made by the coroner, that he was the murderer of Mrs. Maggie Gordon, who was choked to death at her home on Sunday last. The woman's common law husband, Alexander Gordon, had been arrested in connection with the crime and remanded to the Tombs prison to await an inquest.

Washburn, according to the coroner, said that the Gordon woman called him to her home as he was passing. He said he had been robbed and otherwise had suffered at the hands of women and had long nursed a desire to be revenged upon some of them.

An irresistible impulse came to him to kill the woman, he declared, and that he choked her to death.

Mark Twain on Etiquette.

"Mark Twain" at a dinner in New York talked on etiquette.

"I once read a book of etiquette," he said, "and I still remember many of the rules. The most important rules were these:

"How to accept a proffered cigar—Slip the right hand into the box, draw forth two; place one absently in the upper pocket of the vest; insert the other between the lips and look inquiringly around for a light."

"How to leave a room properly—Open the door, place one foot over the sill, follow it up closely with the other and then, turning slightly, shut the door."

"How to accept a dinner invitation—Eat a light breakfast and no lunch."

"How to accept an invitation to drink—Look careless. Say, 'Don't care if I do; and fix the gaze on the other side of the room while the liquor is being poured into the glass. This will assure you a full portion."

Feet of the Tongquines.

So peculiar is the formation of the feet that night and day the Tongquines can run with perfect security over places dangerously rough and smooth most dangerously toward the toes, of which the great one is so separated from the others as to form with them a wide angle. And from the toes grow nails that can be fixed in the ground like hooks. This peculiarity in the feet of the natives of Tongquin has obtained for them among the Chinese the name Cao Chi—the people with the crooked toes.—Rosary Magazine.

Women Must Like to Work.

The increase in the number of women in the trade and industry of America is alarming. Out of 305 "gainful occupations" enumerated by the census of the United States, there are only eight in which women do not appear. From four out of these eight occupations women are excluded by law. At the present time there are over 6,000,000 women at work in various trades, and occupations in the United States. In 1900, of every five American women over ten years of age, there was one who was going outside of her family duties and who was taking part in the gainful work of the working world. At that time there were 40 women civil engineers, 30 women mechanical and electrical engineers, besides 14 women veterinary surgeons.—Technical World.

Everyday Religion.

"I have so fixed the habit in my own mind," said Stonewall Jackson, "that I never raise a glass of water to my lips without asking God's blessing. I never seal a letter without putting a word of prayer under the seal. I never take a letter from the post without a brief sending of my thoughts heavenward. I never change my classes in the section room without a minute's petition for the cadets who go out and those who come in."

The Spreading Beech Tree.

As ornamental trees, the beeches attract attention primarily on account of their dignity of form and peculiarly "clean" appearance. They give ample and spreading shade, the leaves are remarkably free from the insect pests, and they can generally be readily transplanted. They thrive best in a rich, deep, sandy loam, but will grow well in any ordinary soil. The trees attain a height of 80 to 100 feet. In the different seasons the beech presents totally different pictures. In summer it is a broad dome of grateful shade, in winter a glory of dazzling light gray, in spring it floats out its soft, velvety gold-green leaves, and in autumn it is a rich and mellow mingling of subdued yellow-brown and grays.—Garden Magazine.

When the Dead Helped Trade.

A Capt. Taylor, his wife and daughter, of old Brig House, England, were buried side by side, standing up in their graves.

Two hundred years ago it was the custom in England to keep an open coffin or chest in the parish church for common use, to carry the dead to the graveyard. In the body was wrapped in coarse linen and held together with bone pins.

A few years later an act was passed by parliament ordering that all bodies be wrapped in woollen instead of linen, in order to build up or foster the woollen industry, which was then in its infancy. The parish vicar was required to report to the burial took place in woollen according to the act.—The Sunday Magazine.

Do you buy clothes for more than one? If you do, the store ads now are four times five. I've run out of my fingers, so I'm countin' my toes."

THE REFORM MANIA

The wave of reform which has swept over the country has left in its wake a number of leaders who stood out prominently in the vanguard of the procession, and while some of the measures which they advocated were wholesome, the men who heralded them the loudest were intensely human and decidedly weak and fanatical.

Among the most prominent of this class of men was Jerome, the reform district attorney of New York. Mr. Jerome appeared on the political horizon at a time when the great metropolis seemed steeped in corruption, and through his oratory and strong personality convinced the people that given the opportunity, he would wipe out graft and run to cover the men of wealth and prominence who were preying upon the city treasury.

They took him at his word and when he asked for more time, gave him a second trial. But what has he accomplished? He has disappointed his constituency and proved himself one of the weakest officials that ever held the office.

Mayor Weaver of Philadelphia inherited office by accident and found himself at the head of a great reform movement. Everybody said he was a good man and would prove the right kind of a leader, but he has fallen down and today is the laughing stock of the state.

Governor Denen of Illinois was something of a reformer when elected to office and the party had hard work to hold him in line, until he was asked to pay back to the county treasury some $200,000 that it was claimed he had received during his term of office as district attorney.

Mr. Bryan and Mr. Hearst have a disposition to reform things generally, but the people have no confidence in either of these men. The former is credited with being honest, but so theoretical as to be unsafe and dangerous. No claim is made for the latter, and but for his barrel of money he would be associating with Debs at the rear end of the procession.

In our own state we have La Follette, the king bee of reformers. His ambition is to reform, not only measures and parties, but individuals as well, and any man found without the tag is a victim.

The spectacular campaign just closed emphasizes his career in the senate, where he discovered that every republican member was wrong on all propositions.

This is reform turned loose and it will react on the Wisconsin apostle, as it has reacted on scores of other top-heavy representatives.

President Roosevelt is the only man on the list who has not been swept from his moorings by the tide of reform. He has been large enough and strong enough to stand upright in the face of opposition, and the corporations which have been the most active in denouncing admit today that he is right and welcome the measures which he has introduced.

The difference between the President and the men who attempt to follow him, is the difference between a broad intelligence directed by a keen sense of justice, and narrow selfishness controlled by ambition.

The President has reached the pinnacle and is seeking nothing but the best good of all the people. He is not fighting corporations or wealth, but is after corruption in both high and low places with a big stick.

The reform discussion will result in good and some abuses will be corrected. It has also demonstrated that men of light weight, carried away by hobbies, are like meteors on the horizon and disappear from sight about as rapidly.

HEARST'S DEFEAT

In the defeat of William Randolph Hearst in New York state, the avalanche which swept his candidate, Moran—to defeat in Massachusetts, and the overwhelming blows struck in Illinois at his league, have shown the disposition of the voters as a whole to repudiate the yellow journalistic cabal that he represents. The New York campaign has been one of the hottest in the history of the Empire state. Treachery of the Odell republicans, disgruntled at the nomination of Hughes, and the apathy of the republican voters generally, kept the normal republican majority down to a minimum figure, but enough to repudiate thoroughly Hearst and Hearstism and probably eliminate him from the presidential possibility two years from now. In Massachusetts Moran and his sensational campaign is entirely repudiated. In Illinois the same conditions exist and even in California, where Hearst tried to dictate, his candidate was snowed under. Taking it all in all, the voters have exhibited rare judgment in turning down mon endorsed by such a man as Hearst or supported by the Hearst ring of papers. The country is still safe to be left to the dictates of the voters.

ROCK COUNTY

Rock county has again demonstrated the doctrines of the republican party. Giving Davidson, Connor and the entire republican state ticket a handsome majority it returns three staunch republican members of the assembly, Baker in the first, Norcross in the second and Smith in the third. The county ticket is also republican by good safe majorities. I. U. Fisher will be sheriff; Howard Lee, county clerk again; Oliver P. Smith, treasurer; Charles Weirick, register of deeds; Jesse Earle, clerk of the court; J. L. Fisher, district attorney; C. V. Kerch, county surveyor, and William Bates, coroner. Of these Sheriff Fisher, Clerk of the Court Earle and Coroner Bates are the only new officers and they are welcomed to the ranks of county officials.

Present indications are that Babcock, the veteran warhorse of congressional republicanism, has been defeated for re-election. His defeat can be laid directly to bolting republicans following the lead of the junior United States senator, who had a personal grudge against Mr. Babcock and took this method of venting his spleen.

McGovern, the bolting republican candidate for district attorney of Milwaukee county, has been re-elected by a small majority. Another example of the staunchness of the republican doctrines as personified by the junior senator.

Senator Spooner has covered himself with glory and prestige this campaign and is now, as always, the biggest republican of them all, despite the detractions of jealous pettifoggers who abuse people under the cloak of reform and self-aggrandizement.

Municipal ownership is incipient socialism. Government ownership is the dangerous doctrine well developed. Both are unamerican and will never gain a foothold in this country. The city and the government have no right to engage in private business.

Mr. Cooper has again been elected by the usual republican majority in the first congressional district and Janesville did its share of piling up his majority.

Taking it all in all, the G. O. P. elephant has a good meal of the donkey's hay today and can rest for two years at least living off the fat of the land.

The republicans carried Nevada, one of the satisfying features of Tuesday's election, and Senator Dubois will again retire to private life.

Despite bitter personal opposition District Attorney John L. Fisher was re-elected to the office he was appointed to last winter.

Davidson and Connor have carried the state by good majorities. All hail to "Jim" the Governor in fact now.

Over a thousand people witnessed the election results as thrown on the canvas at the Gazette office last evening.

Roosevelt really carried New York state yesterday. Root's speech at Utica did the work.

John Aylward made a good campaign, but Jim made a better one.

Hearst must feel pleased with the results in New York city and state.

"The Peerless One" could not even carry his own state.

PRESS COMMENT.

Dixon's Red Rag Play. Milwaukee Sentinel: Says the Atlanta Constitution: "It is a wonder to us that seeing the desolation he has brought to peaceable communities, Mr. Dixon has not himself long ago withdrawn 'The Clansman' from the stage." Well said! Now there is a voice from a quarter that the "reformer" gentleman might heed.

That Milwaukee Campaign. Grassie in Evening Wisconsin: Oh, the nastiness, the bitterness, the pettiness, the meanness of it all. How long are the people of Milwaukee going to stand for it? Isn't it about time that the voters showed themselves to be possessed of a modicum of self-respect still? Isn't it about time for the sake of the fair name of the queen of the lakes that an end is put to all the back-biting, the incriminations, the traducing, the maligning? Let each voter decide for himself who is the cause of it all and then—end it.

Persons Acquainted With Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy Make Statements.

SAY HAVE OFTEN SEEN HER

Allege That Mrs. Leonard is Not Being Substituted and That No "Cabinet" is in Control.

The reports recently published in a New York paper to the effect that Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, head of the Christian Science church, is physically and mentally incapacitated and that she has been impersonated by Mrs. Pamela J. Leonard have been denied by citizens of Concord, where Mrs. Eddy resides, in signed statements which are published, in part, below. With the exception of that of Calvin A. Frye, who is Mrs. Eddy's secretary, the statements come from persons not associated with the Christian Science cult.

"I have known Mrs. Eddy by sight for many years. I have seen her in her carriage many times within the last season and I know that the sole occupant of the carriage has been Mrs. Eddy. Mrs. Eddy received me this afternoon in company with Gen. Frank S. Streeter.

"Says She Spoke to Mrs. Eddy. "I spoke to Mrs. Eddy and listened for nearly half an hour to her conversation. She is keen of intellect and strong in memory. She is a surprising illustration of longevity; bright, emphatic expression and an alertness rarely to be encountered in a person so venerable.

"CHARLES R. CORNING, "Mayor of Concord, N. H., Sunday, Oct. 28, 1906.

"I have been counselor for Mrs. Eddy at various times during the last twelve or fifteen years and have known her well. I have frequently met her while driving down town.

"The charge that Mrs. Eddy has been physically incapacitated and unable to leave her room for all or a considerable part of three years, and that some one, said to be Mrs. Leonard, was impersonating Mrs. Eddy in her carriage, was already from personal observation known by me to be false.

"Says Mind is Alert. "I can emphatically say that Mrs. Eddy, in spite of her advanced years, is a remarkably well preserved woman. Her mind is not only unimpaired, but she exhibits the same clearness, strength, alertness, and vigor which have so long distinguished her.

"FRANK S. STREETER," Concord, N. H., Sunday, Oct. 28, 1906.

"I am informed there is a report in circulation that the person whom I meet every few days driving is not the Rev. Mary Baker Eddy, but some other person.

"I have known Mrs. Eddy for a number of years, and have had business relations with her, since she came to Concord and made her home at Pleasant View, which relations extend up to the present time. I have also visited her in her home so that I can state from personal knowledge that it is Mrs. Eddy, and no other person, whom I see riding in her carriage.

"J. E. FERNALD, "Pres. National State Capital Bank, Pleasant View, Concord, N. H., Oct. 28, 1906.

"The sensational report that Mrs. Eddy is physically and mentally incapacitated and that she is impersonated by Mrs. Pamela J. Leonard, or by anybody else, is unqualitatively false.

"Not Controlled by a Cabinet. "My position in Mrs. Eddy's household is simply that of a paid employee. She conducts her own affairs, financial and otherwise, today as she always has, and the statement that Mrs. Eddy is dominated or controlled by any sort of a 'cabinet' or combination is positively false. It would have been a simple matter for these reporters to have called at Pleasant View, while Mrs. Eddy was driving, and asked for Mrs. Leonard. Had they taken this ready way of verification, they would have had no trouble in seeing Mrs. Leonard herself and talking with her.

"CALVIN A. FRYE," "I have had the pleasure of knowing Mrs. Eddy for more than ten years, and I have had frequent occasion to correspond with her, and to meet her with reference to matters of public importance in the community and within a short time, I have received from her long letters written from beginning to end in her own handwriting, which from long acquaintance is perfectly familiar to me, and that she is undoubtedly alive, both physically and mentally, is well attested by these communications.

"Moreover, I see Mrs. Eddy driving in her carriage almost every day, and I have within a few days spoken to her as she drove past.

"GEORGE M. MOSES, "Editor Evening Monitor."

"Says She Returned Salutation. "I have met and talked with Mrs. Eddy more than once. I know her, she knows me, have been in her home, in her private room, within a few months, and discussed with her many things; I have bowed to her in her carriage within forty-eight hours and my salutation has been returned by her.

"M. MEBIAN, "Editor Daily Patriot."

"In reference to conversation had with me last evening in regard to statements made to me Oct. 13 by two representatives of the New York World, I will say that they stated that hearing persistent reports that Mrs. Eddy was dead, and had long been so, they had come to Boston to ascertain whether they could find any one who could state with certainty that Mrs. Eddy was alive; that they understood, it Mrs. Eddy were alive, she was so onfeeling and helpless that she was unfit to have any control over the affairs; they said that they did not find any one in Concord who believed that Mrs. Eddy was alive.

"Of course, I denied all of these statements and said they were false. I have had the honor of being in the presence of Mrs. Eddy several times a year, and most emphatically say that she is in every way capable of conducting her business affairs.

"FRED N. LADD, "Treasurer Loan and Trust Savings Bank."

Sold Securities as Needed.

In the interview with the two gentlemen from the New York World on Saturday, Oct. 13, the statement was made by them that it was reported Mrs. Eddy gave $100,000 for the church in Concord, but that she never gave a dollar toward it. My reply was that they were much mistaken as Joseph B. Dwight, Fred N. Ladd, and myself were trustees of that fund and we held the securities, which were given by Mrs. Eddy, in our hands and sold them as the money was needed for the work on the church.

"J. WESLEY PLUMMER, "Deputy State Treasurer."

The persons making these statements are well known in their communities.

EVENT IN EDGERTON SOCIETY CIRCLES

Sixty-three Supper Last Evening Attended by Several Janesville People.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Edgerton, Nov. 7.—The 6:30 o'clock dinner given by Dr. and Mrs. Willard McClesney, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ash, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Conn, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Schmidt in Academy hall on Tuesday evening was by far the most elaborate and successful party ever given in Edgerton. Rugs, curtains, pictures, palms and flowers transformed the plain hall into a most picturesque living room. Covers were laid for 400 guests and under the direction of Mrs. Louise Bowerman of Janesville the Misses Gussie Grove, Edna Wilson, Madge Wilson, Sadie Nelson, Mildred Marsden, Josephine Tallard, Josephine Bates, Leah and Venice Thompson, Helen Conn, Florence Doty, Wilma Hurd, Althea Maltrett, Hazel Conn and Myrtle Maltrett served the following delicious dinner:

Creamed Potatoes
Fried Chicken
Brandy Jelly
Mushrooms in Timbales
Fruit Salad
Salted Pecans
Pickles
Olives
Coffee Rolls
Ice Cream
Cake
Macaroons
Wafers
Baumgartner's harp orchestra furnished music during the evening and Mrs. Schmidt pleased the guests by singing several selections. Cards and linch formed the evening's entertainment. Mr. Stevens of Janesville won high honors in cards. Among the out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Cox, Indian Ford; Mr. and Mrs. H. Head, Albion, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Bliss, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. McGiffin, Mr. and Mrs. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. W. Tallman, all of Janesville.

DRUMMERS' LIBRARY AT MYERS HOSTLERY

Travelers' Protective Association Places Books at Disposal of All Commercial Salesmen.

Lynn Boyd, of the Travelers' Protective Association of America, a national organization of traveling men, is in the city to establish the books of the official T. P. A. libraries for the benefit of the salesmen on the road. The library is located in the writing room of the Myers Hotel where it is easily accessible. The innovation is meeting with a great deal of encouragement. The idea is unique and very popular with drummers. One hundred volumes of standard and current literature in a handsome oak cabinet, are at the disposal of the traveler, who may take a book from the library and return it at any time.

Any one of the numerous ones located over the country and which each book contains a list of the locations. In accordance with the custom of the library as followed in other places, the books will be donated to the local hospital after having been used for two years and a new stock of books put in service. The libraries are located in the leading hotels of Minnesota, Missouri, Colorado, Wisconsin, Iowa, Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama, Virginia, Illinois, Indiana, the Carolinas and Ohio, and are being rapidly installed in Pennsylvania, New York and Michigan.

Derivation of "Spelling."

There is some doubt as to the derivation of the word "spelling." It is believed to be from the Anglo-Saxon word "spel," meaning discourse or story, and the verb "spellan," to declare, relate, tell, as in "spell," a charm, and "gospel." However, there may have been some confusion with "spell," a slip of wood, since such a slip was used in old-time schools to point to the letters of a word, one after another, in spelling them out.

GROWTH OF THE DICTIONARY.

Twenty Years of Work Before Book Is Completed.

What would the wise men of Nineveh, who, 700 years before Christ, wrote down the words of their language on small tablets of clay, think could they come to earth and see after its completion, the master dictionary which is now under process of making in Philadelphia.

Those wise men of so many centuries ago were the infant beginners in the business of lexicography. One set of cuneiform tablets for the Assyrian king's library was all that they were required to furnish.

Not so easy is the job of dictionary making in these advanced times. The Philadelphia publisher above referred to has kept a large staff at work on his new dictionary for 14 years, expending $400,000, and has just completed for printing the matter from "A" to two-thirds of "E." It is estimated that $250,000 more will be required to complete the work, which will consume at least five years in accomplishment.

Hitting Back.

The suburban trolley was tied up and they had been walking toward home for an hour.

"John," she ventured after a long silence, "how far have we walked?"

"Dunno," growled John, as he felt his melting collar. "You didn't take a pedometer for a husband?"

She said nothing. The next morning John was going fishing and instead of awakening at four he slept till seven.

"Great Scott!" he exclaimed, searching for his shoes. "Why didn't you arouse me earlier?"

"Arouse you?" she said, sweetly. "Why, my dear, because you didn't take an alarm clock for a wife."

His Motive, Misunderstood.

A cashier of the financial district, says the New York Sun, on being advised by his physician to take a vacation not long ago, wrote the agent of a South American steamship line as follows:

"As I am thinking of taking a trip to South America, please advise me immediately with particulars relative to rates, accommodations and so on, to and from the various ports usually visited by tourists at this season of the year."

The answer came by special delivery, marked private and confidential.

"One of our steamers will sail for Valparaiso next Wednesday. Shortest and quickest way out of the country."

A Novel Way of Fishing.

A correspondent writes: As I was walking along the promenade at Eastbourne recently I saw a gentleman, with a big black retriever dog, tied to a leash. I stopped and watched him; so did some more people. After awhile he let the dog go. He swam out to sea a little way and brought back what I thought was a walking stick. But as the dog got closer to shore, I saw there was some string attached to it, which turned out to be a fishing line; and, to the surprise of the people around him, it had on the end of it a small salmon bass, which weighed about four, and one-half pounds. Surely this is a novel way of fishing!—Weekly Telegraph.

A Tale of a Faithful Dog.

Organist Pilkington, at Paulersbury, Northamptonshire, England, used to be accompanied every Sunday to the church door by his terrier, which waited patiently until the service was concluded. Six weeks ago the organist died. On each Sunday since then the dog has gone to the church, looked wistfully about, waited until everybody had departed and then gone home mournfully.

"You have known Mr. Mitchell for a number of years, I believe?"

"No, not more than a year and a half. He has not been in New York two years."

"Oh, I see. A Boston man?"

"No, I think he came from New Orleans."

A curious sensation passed over Mr. Barnes. There is a superstition, much esteemed by many, that a shudder or chill of this character means that some one is walking over the spot where the person affected is to be buried. Therefore an uncanny thought accompanied it. With Mr. Barnes it is different. He is free from all such notions, yet insensibly he is moved when this occurs to him, because it has so often happened that at the time he just hit upon a clue. Therefore he stopped to consider. All that Mr. Randolph had said was that Mr. Mitchell, he thought, had come from New Orleans. In a moment it flashed across Mr. Barnes' mind that the dead woman had told him that she had lived in New Orleans. Was there any significance in this fact? Did the man and the woman know each other in the southern city?

"How do you know that he is a southerner?" asked Mr. Barnes.

"Oh, that was easily discovered by his accent," replied Mr. Randolph. "Besides, he claims to be from the south, though I think he is rather inclined not to speak of his home. I have an indistinct recollection of his telling me once that he was born in New Orleans and that he had some painful recollections of the place. That is the only time that he ever alluded to it; however."

"I would like to ask you a question about another man, Mr. Randolph. I wonder whether you have met him. His name is Thaurat."

"Alphonse Thaurat? Yes, I know him, and I do not like him."

"Why not?"

"I don't exactly know. Perhaps it is only a prejudice. Still we are apt to form quick estimates of men, and I have distrusted this man from the first instant that I met him."

"Disturbed him?"

"Yes, I may be entirely wrong, and perhaps I should not tell you the story, but I will do so. It was at one of my clubs about two weeks ago. Some gentlemen were playing whist, and this Thaurat was of the number. Others were looking on. The stakes were small, still there was money up. Thaurat and his partner seemed to have a great deal of luck. Ordinarily, of course, two packs are used, but for some reason there was but one that night, so that the bottom card would be the trump. Now it is pretty well known that as the cards ran in whist, each trick containing four of a suit mainly, it is a mathematical certainty that if the pack is shuffled twice only, and the dealer is skillful enough to handle the pack so that the two halves split each other exactly both times, the result will be that the majority of trumps will go to himself and partner. Cutting does not alter this fact at all. Now what I observed was that Thaurat dealt in that way every time. He and his partner won about $200 during the evening. I think he cheated."

"Who was his partner?"

"I do not know."

"Was Mr. Mitchell present that night?"

"Yes, and agreed with me that the man is a card shark. Yet of course you may be doing him an injustice. After all we only know that he shuffled his cards twice, and played in good luck. I have seen him lose at the same game."

"Well, I am much indebted to you, Mr. Randolph, for the information which you have given me. I will say that if I can prove that your friend had no hand in this affair, I shall be most happy."

The detective arose and Mr. Randolph accepted the action as a hint that he was dismissed. After his departure Mr. Barnes sat down again. In his mind he wondered whether this partner in the card game might have been the accomplice of Thaurat in the jewel robbery, and whether he was the man who left the jewels in the hotel at New Haven. Why he should have done so, however, was a mystery.

A few minutes later Mr. Barnes left the building and walked rapidly toward Third Avenue, where he took the elevated road, getting out at Seventy-sixth street. Going eastward a few houses he rang the bell of one, and was shown into a modestly furnished parlor. A few minutes later a comely young woman of about 24 or 25 entered. The two talked together in low tones for some time, and then the girl left the room, returning in street attire. Together they left the house.

Four days later Mr. Barnes received a note which simply said, "Come up." He seemed to understand it, however, and was quickly on his way to the house on Seventy-sixth street. Once more the girl joined him in the parlor.

"Well," said Mr. Barnes, "have you succeeded?"

"Why, of course," replied the girl. "You never knew me to make a failure, did you? You don't class me with Wilson, I hope?"

"Never mind about Wilson; tell me your story."

"Very good. Don't be impatient. You know me, I take my own way of doing things. Well, you left me in Madison Square park. Two hours later a man came out of the hotel and Wilson followed him. It made me laugh to see the gawk skulking along in the rear. He's no artist. Why, any body could tell in a minute that he was on the trail."

"I told you to omit remarks about Wilson."

"I know, but I choose to tell you about him, because I make you appreciate me more. So there he was chasing after your man Mitchell. You see I have found out his name. You didn't tell me, but that could not trouble me long, you know. It was real fun. One minute Wilson would be actually running to keep up, and all of a sudden Mitchell would stop so short that Wilson would almost bump into him. Of course he knows Wilson by this time, and just has fun with him. I wanted to get one good square look at him myself. I jumped on a car and reached Third Avenue ahead of them. I ran up stairs to the platform of the elevated station and hid in the waiting room. Soon up came Mitchell, and away he goes to the end of the platform. Wilson stopped in the middle and tried to look natural, which, of course, he didn't. When the train came along, I got aboard and walked through till I found my man, and down I sat right opposite to him. I just studied his face, you bet."

"Yes, miss; and he studied yours. You are a goose, and you disobeyed orders. I told you not to let that keen devil see you at all."

"That's all right. It came out straight enough. At Forty-second street he got out, and so did Wilson, and so did I."

"Why not?"

"Because then he might have suspected me. No, sir; I rode on up to Forty-seventh street, crossed over, took a train down, and was waiting in the station when Mitchell came along the second time. This time he was alone, evidently having eluded Wilson at Thirty-fourth street. He took the down train. So did I, this time keeping out of sight. He went straight to his lay, and I after him. It is a house in Irving place. Here is the number." She handed a card to Mr. Barnes.

"You have done well," said he, taking it. "But why did you not report to me at once?"

"I am not through yet. When I take up a case, I go to the end of it. Do you suppose I would track that man again? Not much. Next day I called at the house and rang the bell. A servant girl opened the door. I looked to see the mistress. She asked what I wanted, and I told her that I had been sent for to take a situation. She looked surprised, because, of course, she had not been notified that she was to be discharged. I quickly went on to say that I would not like to make her lose her place, and asked what sort of people they were who lived in the house. I got her talking and soon found out that it is a kind of private boarding school, and that there is a child there, a girl of 14, named Rose Mitchell, and that your man is her father. How does that strike you?"

"My girl, you are a genius. But still you knew this the day before yesterday. Why did you not report?"

"I went down again yesterday to try to learn more. I sat out in the park and watched the young girls when they came out for an airing. I could not find a chance to speak to the girl, but I found out what is she by hearing the others call her name. I had my camera along, and I took her portrait for you. What do you say now? Have I wasted my time?"

"Not at all. You are clever, but you will never be great, because you are too conceited. However, I have nothing but praise for you this time. Get me the picture."

The girl went up stairs and returned with a small, rather dim photograph of a young, pretty girl, and gave it to Mr. Barnes. About half an hour later he left the house.

S.S.S. RIDS THE SYSTEM OF MALARIA

The healthy color of the skin is given to it by the millions of little red corpuscles in the blood. These are the carriers of nourishment, health and strength to all parts of the body—in other words the very life of the blood. When the germs of Malaria get into this vital fluid they destroy these corpuscles and rob the blood of its rich, life-sustaining qualities, rendering it thin, weak and watery and unable to supply the system with the needed strength to resist disease. Then the symptoms of Malaria such as pale, sallow complexions, weak vitality, poor appetite, deranged digestion, a general "let down" condition of the system, and perhaps chills and slight fever, show that this insidious disease is gradually affecting the entire health. Malaria must be removed from the system through the circulation, and the medicine to accomplish this is S. S. S. It not only cleanses the blood of all impure, unhealthy matter, but rids the system of Malaria, and restores the blood to a strong, healthy condition. S. S. S., besides removing the germs of Malaria, builds up and gives tone and vigor to the entire system by its fine tonic effects. Malaria is a blood disease, and S. S. S. cures it because it is a perfect blood-purifier. Book on the blood and any medical advice without charge.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

FEARFUL PAINS

SUGGESTIONS HOW WOMEN MAY FIND RELIEF.

Miss Nellie Holmes and Mrs. Tillie Hart.

While no woman is entirely free from periodical suffering, it does not seem to be the plan of nature that women should suffer so severely. This is a severe strain on a woman's vitality. When pain exists something is wrong which should be set right or it will lead to a serious derangement of the whole female organism.

Thousands of women have testified in grateful letters to Mrs. Pinkham that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound overcomes woman's special pains and irregularities.

It provides a safe and sure way of escape from distressing and dangerous weaknesses and diseases.

The two following letters tell so convincingly what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will do for women, they cannot fail to bring hope to thousands of sufferers.

Miss Nellie Holmes, of 540 N. Division Street, Buffalo, N. Y., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham—

Your medicine is indeed an ideal medicine for women. Failed misery for years with painful periods, headaches and bearing-down pains. I consulted two different physicians but failed to get any relief. A friend from the east advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so, and no longer suffer as I did before. My periods are natural, every ache and pain is gone, and my general health is much improved. I advise all women who suffer to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Tillie Hart, of Larimore, N. D., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham—

I might have been spared many months of suffering and pain had I only known of the efficacy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound sooner; for I have tried so many remedies without help.

I dreaded the approach of every month, as it meant so much pain and suffering for me, but after I had used the Compound two months I became regular and natural and am now perfectly well and free from pain. I am very grateful for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me.

Such testimony should be accepted by all women as convincing evidence that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stands without a peer as a remedy for all the distressing ills of women.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound rests upon the well-earned gratitude of American women.

When women are troubled with pain or irregularities, displacements or ulceration of the organs, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, bloating (or flatulency), general debility, indigestion and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, at once removes such troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine, for you need the best.

MEMPHIS POLICE IN MUTINY

MAJOR SUSPENDS ENTIRE FORCE FOR DISOBEDIENCE.

Chief Refuses to Accept Orders from City Executive and Patrolmen Follow His Lead.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 7.—A mutiny of nearly every member of the police force of Memphis, headed by Chief George T. O'Haver, occurred here Tuesday. As a result, this city has two chiefs of police.

Early in the day Mayor James H. Malone appeared at police headquarters and informed Chief O'Haver and the patrolmen that he desired to change their election day assignments. The mayor explained that he feared trouble at the polls and, acting under the recent city charter, which under certain conditions gave him authority to take full charge of the police department, he would expect obedience to his orders.

Vice Mayor John T. Walsh appeared and insisted that the regular assignment of patrolmen be carried out.

Chief O'Haver said that he would not consent to the reassignment, whereupon Mayor Malone suspended the chief on a charge of insubordination. The mayor then appointed Police Sergeant W. J. Hayes acting chief.

The patrolmen, almost to a man, announced that they would receive orders only from Chief O'Haver. Mayor Malone visited several polling places and suspended more than 50 policemen.

In the afternoon Vice Mayor Walsh and two fire and police commissioners held a meeting and passed a resolution reinstating O'Haver. This, it is claimed, was illegal under the law, and it is believed the tangle will continue in its present shape until a joint meeting of the police commissioners and city council is held to take action in the matter.

The election passed off quietly. No disorder was reported and a light vote was cast.

PENS TO LAST FOREVER

Made of New Metal. They Are Practically Indestructible.

One of the properties of tantalum, a new metal discovered in Germany not long ago, is that it can be utilized in the manufacture of a pen which will be practically everlasting. The metal is so hard that a diamond drill working at the rate of 5,000 revolutions per minute, hardly makes an impression upon its surface, and it can be rolled so thin that the pen will have all the desired resiliency.

This pen will therefore withstand a great amount of hard usage. It will really be a difficult thing to put it out of business. No character of ink will affect it; in fact, it will resist all chemicals to a very deep degree.

A company has been formed in Germany to make these pens, and to engage in the manufacture of tools of different kinds. The process of producing this metal in a perfectly pure state was discovered by Dr. Werner von Bolton, and his invention has made the material available.

THE COUNTY TAX LEVY IS LESS THAN WAS EXPECTED

County Committee On Equalization Met On Monday And Decided Upon The Ratios.

At a meeting of the county committee on equalization held on Monday last, the report of the supervisor of assessments, Starr, was read and based upon his findings the board agreed to place the apportionment on the basis of a $48,000,000 valuation. The aggregate and true value of the county is nearly sixty million dollars as computed on the lines laid down by the state tax commission. The assessors' returns are approximately $46,000,000 and Mr. Starr estimates that this is 783 per cent of the true value. The following table will give the comparative values, assessments, percentage to true value and per cent of each city, village and town's share of county expense. Beloit makes the largest showing and takes 1 per cent more of the county expense than last year, while Janesville is gradually dropping back. Edgerton shows considerable gain and Evansville a small gain.

Handshake Anguish.
A correspondent, who is one of the sex most liable to have his hand pressed, thanks us for our protest against the "physical anguish" that is daily inflicted by the handshake. But this acute pain, the confessor, is brought about altogether by the wearing of rings on the right hand. No one could possibly apply the word "anguish" to anything felt by the undecorated hand; but is by no means too violent a name for what many fragile fingers undergo between the diamond and the ruby. Our correspondent owns that an acute observer might see her many times furtively conveying all her right hand rings to the fingers of the left hand before a rarewell likely to be hearty.

Princeton Pastor a Humorist.
The Rev. Dr. J. Addison Henry, for many years the Princeton pastor, had a keen sense of humor and detested shams. "Speaking of how useless to a congregation are the honorary degrees and titles that its pastor might have," he told of one his daughter, Mrs. Odyke, when a child, conferred upon him. It seems Dr. Henry was attending one of the sessions of the general assembly and the little girl addressed a letter to him: "The Rev. J. Addison Henry, General Ass." He was famous as a punster, and his play of words on his name was often quoted. When the degree of D. D. was conferred upon him by Princeton, he remarked: "So A-D-D-is-on Henry." With children he was irresistible. He told them, one day, in speaking of prayer, that his little daughter one Christmas eve made the following supplication: "Oh, Lord, do please make the night very short and to-morrow very long." The text for his address on his fortieth anniversary was: "And Forty Years Have I Suffered These People."

TITLES OF NO USE IN BUSINESS.

Foreigners in America Soon Learn to Assume Plebeian Names.

"Aprons of the society woman who recently eloped with a European nobleman concealed by fate as a fiding master," said a German baron, whose New York name is plain Mr. Smith, "you have no idea what a drawback a title is in business in this country, and what trouble the owner has to go to to conceal it." They talk about Americans worshipping titles. It is certainly not the case in the business world. For altogether justifiable reasons, perhaps, your Yankee newspapers and fiction writers are accustomed to describe the European nobleman, whatever his fatherland, as spineless, dissipated, and generally no good. This creates a prejudice which the titled foreigner immediately becomes acquainted with when he comes here for the purpose of making a living.

"I had been but three days in New York when I learned to discard the honored name I was born to." During those three days, although an expert engineer with a special field, I could obtain work nowhere. On the fourth day I became Mr. Carl Smith and got a job. It's all nonsense, to say that the representative American worships titles. He doesn't. Plain Carl Smith has better chances any day than the foreigner with three hinges to his name. — N. Y. Press.

Costly Singing Birds.
The most costly living creature, in proportion to its weight, is doubtless a highly-trained song bird, a bullfinch or canary that can whistle two or three airs from operas. Such cage pets sometimes sell at the rate of $1,000 a pound or more, a price which would make a race horse worth about $1,000,000 and a setter dog $50,000 or upwards.

MORE REBATE CASES IN SHOW-ME STATE

Federal Grand Jury Convened at Kansas City Today and Will Probably Take Action.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 7.—It is regarded as quite likely that Kansas City will again be the scene of important rebate prosecutions, as a result of action that will probably be taken by the federal grand jury that convened today. The evidence brought to light in the recent Thomas case, regarding rebates in connection with freight brokerage transactions, tended to show that many prominent Missouri river jobbers had been guilty of receiving rebates. In fact, the jobbers themselves took the stand and testified to receiving rebates, being under the impression that they were immune from prosecution. The recent decision of the supreme court in the Hale case, however, set down that there can be no immunity for one who voluntarily testifies in a lawsuit to have violated the law. As a result of this decision it is thought probable that the cases of the jobbers who testified to receiving rebates will be handed over to the grand jury for action.

VARIOUS RELIGIOUS CONVENTIONS MEET

British Columbia Branch of the International Sunday School Union in Session.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Victoria, B. C., Nov. 7.—Delegates from many coast cities and points in the interior are in Victoria for the seventh annual convention of the British Columbia branch of the International Sunday School association. The formal opening takes place in Calvary Baptist church tonight, and this will be followed by three business sessions tomorrow. The program provides for addresses by several prominent speakers in addition to the usual reports of officers and committees and the practical discussion of various phases on Sunday school work.

Episcopal Mission Workers.
Columbus, S. C., Nov. 7.—The big Episcopal mission conference began the second day of its proceedings with the celebration of the holy communion in the two Episcopal churches of the city. In Craven hall the business sessions were resumed shortly after 10 o'clock. The prominent speakers heard during the forenoon included Bishop Bratton of Mississippi, Rev. Matthew Brewster of Mobile, and Rev. James G. Glass of Annapolis. A session of the bishops this afternoon devoted itself to the discussion of the conditions and needs within their respective dioceses. Elaborate arrangements have been made for the public reception in honor of the visiting clergymen at the state capitol tonight. Tomorrow will conclude the conference.

South Carolina Synod.
Augusta, Ga., Nov. 7.—The Evangelical Lutheran Synod of South Carolina met in eighty-second annual convention in this city today, to remain in session four days. The opening took place in St. Matthew's church this morning, when the delegates assembled for a preparatory service, followed by the synodical sermon, which was delivered by Rev. W. L. Seabrook. During the succeeding days of the convention the synod will consider the reports of the various educational and missionary bodies of the church and elect officers for the ensuing year and delegates to the united synod.

A. M. E. Conference.
Yokum, Texas, Nov. 7.—The West Texas conference of the A. M. E. church convened in annual session here today, Bishop Tyce of Nashville presiding. Several hundred delegates and visitors are in attendance.

"Picnic Suppers."
"Picnic suppers" were described in 1802 as a new fashionable craze in England. A list was compiled of the various dishes, each with a number against it. These lots were drawn by the party, and each person had to provide the dish marked with the number he drew. Such suppers were known in the time of James I. and the word "picnic" was known to Lord Chesterfield. It is supposed to come from "pick," to eat, and "nick," a trifle. Foote calls picnics "nick-nacks."

HE SAW HIS GALLOWS BUILT

Doomed Negro on a Steamboat Watched Hangmen Erect Scaffold on Shore.

LYNCHERS FOILED BY LAW

While Mobs Looked For Sheriff Condemned Man Was Secretly Taken on a Steamer to Smith's Island, Md., and Hanged.

A spectacle unique in the execution of the death penalty was presented when William Lee, alias George Scott, a seventeen-year-old negro, was hanged on the barren marshes of Smith's Island, opposite Crisfield, Md., for criminally assaulting two white women near Kingston, Somerset county, Md.

The details of the crime, as told by the victims and confessed to by Lee on the day of his arrest, stamped the negro as a fiend, and the wide publicity given to the case so enraged the populace of Somerset county that the authorities conceded the impossibility of a public execution without mod violence and probable bloodshed.

To prevent the apparently inevitable burning at the stake of the prisoner by gangs which had been organized throughout the section, the negro was, under Governor Warfield's order, secretly turned over to Sheriff Brown of Somerset county and taken aboard the state steamer McLane at night.

The carriage in which the officers and Lee rode from the jail to the wharf was in fact a tumbrel carrying the criminal to his death, but the place of the execution and its time were not divulged until the steamer was under way on the bay, when the death warrant was read.

A portable scaffold was carried aboard the steamer to the scene of the hanging. To erect it after anchor had been dropped required some time, and the work was done in full view of the boat. Callous to his fate as the negro boy had seemed, the building of the scaffold told on his nerves, and he broke down and wept, as he had to sit by and watch his executioners carry the paraphernalia of death—the rope, hangman's cap, shroud and coffin—over the quarter of a mile course from the steamer to the island.

Careful as the officers were to hurry through the preliminaries and relieve the situation as much as possible of the element of torture, it was found that the shroud straps had been left behind, and the negro, seated 100 feet from the gallows, had to wait until another trip was made to the McLane to bring them ashore.

There were no steps to the gallows, a ship's iron ladder taking their place. The ladder did not quite reach the platform, and when Lee was ascending to his death deputies on the gibbet lifted him by his handcuffed wrists, while those below raised his limbs. The negro's legs were pinioned, the cap and shroud adjusted, and the negro preacher who went along as Lee's spiritual adviser offered a fervent prayer. The condemned man again confessed his guilt before the drop was pulled. In eighteen minutes two physicians pronounced Lee dead.

Made Himself a Human Torch.
Harland Knowles, aged seventy years, a prominent citizen of Pindary Lake, N. Y., was literally roasted to death in a horrible accident at his home. Knowles, who was subject to dizzy spells, fell while carrying a lighted lamp and the oil covered his body and ignited, making a human torch of him. The flames were finally extinguished, but the aged man died.

Killed by Quinine.
John Jacobs of Morrisville, Va., died in awful agony as the result of a mammoth dose of quinine. Hearing that quinine was good for malaria, the man took at one dose the entire contents of a dram bottle. His lungs burst, his eyes burst, the drums of his ears burst, and he died in indescribable pain.

New Use for 'Phone.

A telephone girl tells the Philadelphia Record of a new use of the telephone. Three women occupy a house near where the girl lives. They had been away in the country for some time when one day the operator was surprised to hear one of them call up a pay station, asking for her own home number. The girl says: "I rang the phone several times, but as the house was closed, there was no answer. Then my curiosity got the better of me and I disclosed my identity and asked why she was calling her own number, when she knew the house was closed." That's just the point, came the response over the wire, rather tartly: "We wish to scare any burglars away if there are any in the house."

Rehearsed His Own Funeral.

Charles V. of France on one occasion celebrated his own funeral. Some years before his death he caused his tomb to be built in the chapel of the monastery, and was actually carried thereto as if he was dead. The king was placed in his coffin, and the burial ceremony enacted with all due solemnity. Tears were shed as if he was in the calm sleep of death. Chants and prayers were said over him, and then the mourners left him in his coffin in the chapel, where he remained for about two hours.—The Sunday Magazine.
